

Can we get a time stamp for the notifications? It's hard for me to tell if these notifications are relevant for today, yesterday, the week before, et cetera. Not only should there be a mark as read but there should also be a clear button as well right?

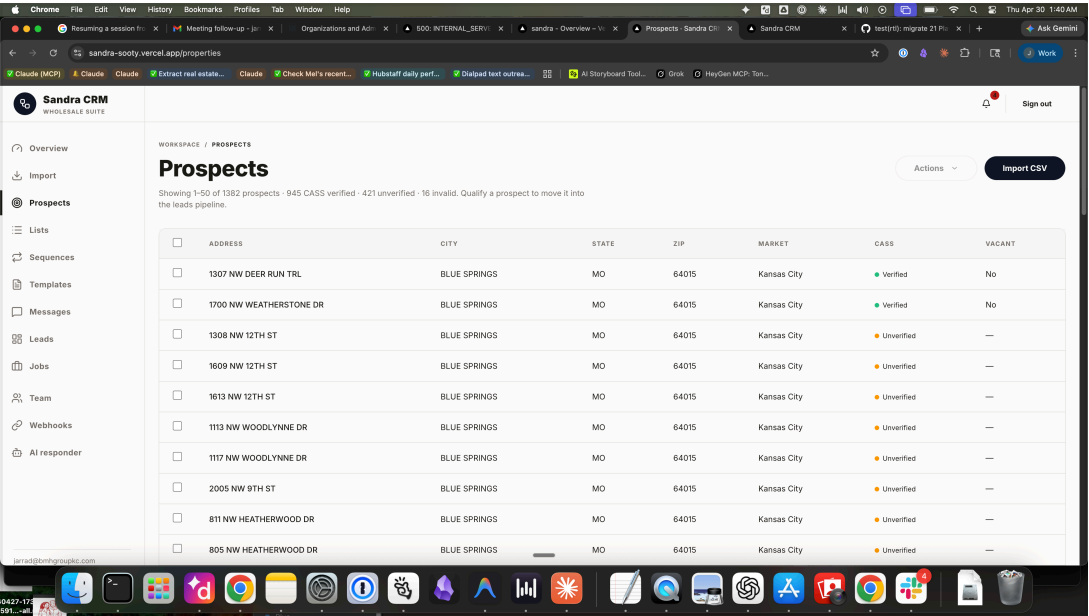

Let's just remove this first step called mode. And shift the current second place to first place. This timeline will only be shown when you click next so you won't even see the wizard steps until you move past this initial step. Does this make sense? So for both add data and update data, the current second step should change to the first step and mode should never be seen. The first time we see steps will be in the very next sequence or step.

We need to add some pills or labels to this data I want to know if a prospect is a part of the list, if it's been skip traced if there's been any messages sent, if so how many? Whether it's vacant and a badge or label, if it's CAS verified or not we should also be able to filter by these criteria. Also every table in the CRM, each column should be sortable and searchable if possible.

Also there should be an option to select all 1,382 prospects or just the ones shown.

Are all of these actions still relevant? Seems to be a lot
This qualifies selected me to make lead. If so we should change the name of Qualify Selected to "Promote to Lead".
Set motivation doesn't feel right either. Let's discuss this. Actually motivation doesn't make sense here because we can only assess motivation after we've had a conversation. This isn't where a user would set motivation so set motivation should be removed here.

I'd also love some quick filters on the top of this page as well. Maybe assign to me.
